Charley Sigwalt, Veteran Soldier and Public Official, is Dead

Chicago Board of Trade Sends Men to Honor War Veteran

FT. SHERIDAN SQUAD GIVES SALUTE

Veteran Public Official and Mason Had Large Acquaintance, Identified with Early Growth of Local Government

Mr. Charles Sigwalt, veteran soldier, veteran public official and veteran Mason is dead. He passed away quietly Monday morning, bringing to an end an eventful life of a self-made man, self educated and who won unaided recognition in many walks of life. Upon announcement of the demise of Mr. Sigwalt, Mayor Mors ordered that the village flag be flown at half mast until after the funeral in recognition of the many years service he had given to the village of Arlington Heights during the early days of the village as an incorporated town. Word was flashed to neighboring communities, in which Charley Sigwalt has nearly as many friends as in Arlington Heights. Messages of condolence began to arrive from Chicago and other places. Offers of aid and desire to help in the funeral arrangements accompanied the messages of sympathy. The offers that came to the home of his only son, John Sigwalt, that sympathy and honor that the deceased was always ready to accord to his friends, seemed to return many fold.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon and was attended by officials of the village, officers of societies, representatives of the Chicago Board of Trade, and hundreds of others who more or less intimately acquainted with the deceased. Through arrangements of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, a firing squad came from Fort Sheridan. Robert Reed, and Christ Niemeyer, lone surviving comrades of his post in the Arlington Heights were able to be present. The Masonic services, in which Mr. Sigwalt had so frequently taken part, were the last rites performed over the remains of the deceased. George Wilson acted as master and G. Schenberger as chaplain.

The funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church, Rev. Kossach officiating. The Oriental quartet sang during the service.

Old Regimental Colors Here

Mr. Sigwalt was first of all a soldier and while he never talked much about the part he played in that historic conflict between the north and south, his friends knew that of all the honors that were accorded to his memory, Wednesday afternoon, none were greater than the presence of that old regimental flag of the Chicago Board of Trade, the Eighty-eighth, Illinois Volunteers. When word of Mr. Sigwalt's death was sent to Adolph Gerstenberg, an old member time friend of Mr. Sigwalt, arrangements were at once made to have the regimental colors, loved so much by the deceased, present at the funeral. Accompanying them were three drummers, three buglers and two color bearers from the board of trade American Legion Post.

There remain after the death of Mr. Sigwalt only three members of Gen. Willich Post of Des Plaines. They are Comrade Steiner of Park Ridge and Robert Reed and Christ Niemeyer of Arlington Heights, disbanded a few years ago and of which Mr. Sigwalt was the last commander.

Among the private papers left by Mr. Sigwalt is the mustering out roll of Company L of his regiment, all carefully written in handwriting of the deceased. It also reveals the tragedy at the battle of Stone River, when Charley and Jacob Sigwalt, brothers entered the battle together but Charley, only, came out alive. The body of his brother was never found.

On July 1, 1864, he was commissioned as Sergeant of Co. "I", 88th Regiment Illinois Volunteers, and March 1, 1865, was promoted to 1st Sergeant, while on June 8, 1865, he was made 2d Lieutenant, and the following day, June 9, 1865, was mustered out of the service at Nashville, Tenn., and received his honorable discharge which he prized more highly than any document in the world and well he may, for it recites on its face the names of sixteen well fought battles in which he had done a soldier's part. Several of these battles are among the most memorable of the war, and are as follows:

Perryville, Stone River, Chickamauga, Mission Ridge, Dalton, Resaca, Nashville, Dallas, Kennesaw Mountain, Lost Mountain, Atlanta, Jonesboro, Lovejoy, Spring Hill, Franklin, Nashville, Peach Tree Creek.

A commission as 2d Lieutenant signed by R. O. Oglesby, the war governor of Illinois, is among his effects left by Mr. Sigwalt.

He was elected the first clerk of the village and elected as president of the village for eleven terms in succession, having never

Heinrich Studtmann In Eightieth Year Quietly Sleeps Away

Death quietly took Mr. Heinrich P. C. Studtmann, of Arlington Heights Sunday afternoon. Mr. Studtmann had laid down for a nap following his dinner and he realized that he was near death. He passed away at 4:30 o'clock. The funeral was held at St. Peter's Lutheran church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. C. M. Noack and Rev. H. C. Fricke both officiated. The deceased had been closely identified with the Lutheran church. His first son, Henry, is now a professor and director of Concordia College at Austin, Texas, and Mr. Studtmann, himself was superintendent of the Altemheim at Arlington Heights from 1896 to 1906. After ten years of faithful service he built a residence at 628 North Highland Ave. There he resided since that time, making his home with his son, Theodore.

In early life, Mr. Studtmann was a cabinet maker and following his retirement from the Old Folks home, he obligingly did such repair work for those who came to his home. The business that had such a small beginning grew and his sons, Theodore and Ernest received the idea of opening a furniture store in Arlington Heights. Their father came with them and for a number of years was there every day, handling the repair and up-holstering work. In later years he was unable to do the work, but his interest in the store was always there and few weeks passed that he did not visit the place. As late as the week prior to his death, he visited the place.

Mr. Studtmann had excellent health until early this year. He was a great reader of newspapers but failing eyesight recently forced him to forego that pleasure and it was not until then that he was willing to admit that the years were "piling up upon him." He had reached the age of 80 years 9 months and 8 days at the time of his death.

Obituary

Heinrich P. C. Studtmann was born at Wetzlar, Germany, on October 12, 1849, and was confirmed at Amelinghausen, on March 20, 1864. After completing his trade as a cabinet maker, he came to New York at the age of 19 years, settling at Kingston, at that state and three years later came to Illinois.

He was married June 10, 1875, at Dunee, Ill., to Gustave Breseman. Of this marriage there is one son, Henry. His first wife died July 16, 1890. On December 13, 1891, he married Emilie Penner at Chicago, who is the mother of Theodore and Ernest and who died May 2, 1917.

Mr. Studtmann was the eldest of four brothers and outlived them all. There remain three children, 2 daughters-in-law, 9 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren. The sons of the deceased have the memory of a father who was also a counsellor and who left them the sterling example of honest labor.

Mr. Studtmann never sought public office, contenting himself to be a good citizen, ready to support the government, both local and national as a good American should. Arlington Heights has lost a man who has helped to make the community worth while to each and every one. His sons have lost a father, but have a memory that will be ever cherished.

SERVICE CLUBS ASK CROSSING PROTECTION

State and County Authorities Asked to Confer; Crossing Unprotected

The numerous serious and fatal accidents which have occurred at the intersection of the Northwest Highway and Dundee road have stirred the Service Clubs of the Northwest territory to action and efforts will be made to have the state and county highway authorities make some provisions for the protection of the public at that intersection.

A joint meeting of a committee from the Barrington Lions club, Palatine Lions club, Arlington Heights Lions club and Palatine Booster club, was held at the Palatine administration building Tuesday evening at which meeting the situation was thoroughly discussed and a plan of action mapped out.

The joint committee will ask district engineer, G. N. Lamo of the Ill. State Highway department for an appointment where the subject may be discussed between the representatives from the Northwest towns and the highway department. When an appointment is made by Mr. Lamo, county highway officials will also be invited to the meeting and every effort will be made to see if some plan can be devised to furnish greater protection at that dangerous intersection.

At the meeting of the Service clubs committee Tuesday evening it was pointed out that the only signs at the intersection were warning signs, that there are no warning, or go slow signs or even a main road sign.

It was also pointed out that this intersection is used by the milk trucks as a loading station which makes the intersection a dangerous one at certain times of the day. No intersection in this entire territory has the record of accidents which the Dundee road-Northwest Highway crossing has and this fact was taken notice of by a recent coroner's jury in the investigation of a death at that intersection.

The representatives from the various Northwest Service clubs which attended the joint meeting at Palatine on Tuesday were Barrington Lions club, A. H. Sass, Leslie Paddock; Arlington Heights Lions club, J. D. Flentje, W. H. Boireau; Palatine Lions club, T. C. Hart, E. P. Steinbrink, Fred Oswald; Palatine Booster club, E. R. Prout, C. J. Hans. President E. R. Prout of the Palatine Booster club was made chairman of the joint committee and President T. C. Hart of the Palatine Lions club secretary. It is hoped that an early appointment with the state highway officials may be obtained.

GOVERNOR CUTS CAMP MEETING FOR THE RACES

Does Honors for the Winning Horse While Church Folks Wait

The crowd of Methodists and visitors at the Des Plaines camp meeting Saturday afternoon suffered disillusionment when Governor Emmerson, scheduled to speak there by previous arrangement, passed right by them and took in the Arlington Park races. It was the "broad and wide" rather than the "strait and narrow" way that evidently had the greatest charm for his Excellency, who shone with the nabobs and elite of the horse racing fraternity, presenting the trophy to Trainer Thompson of "Blue Larkspur." The church folks waited and waited; at 2:30, no governor, as the meeting began; 3:30, still no word; about four o'clock it was announced that it was evident "Governor's day" had switched to the race track.

George P. Ellis, chairman of the meeting, and president of the Laymen's association of the Rock River conference of the Methodist church, twice expressed his surprise and disappointment that the governor had given them the slip; and later when Charles W. Hadley, of Wheaton, Emmerson appointee as chairman of the Illinois Commerce commission rose to speak on law enforcement, he hastened to explain that the governor is a very busy man, etc. etc. Mr. Hadley was not there at the governor's personal representative, but separately engaged to speak as a prominent Methodist layman.

Mr. Hadley declared that the present day, easy-going kind of law enforcement demands correction, and that leadership of the Andrew Jackson type is needed to use strong arm tactics against law-breakers generally and show that the American Constitution is the law of the land, and woe to whomsoever defies the law.

The next speaker, Rev. Dr. Fred D. Stone, of the Irving Park Methodist Episcopal church, gave a thrust at the daily press: "The press tells us our business is to

Concordia League Arranges Great Picnic Sunday

The Concordia Mutual Benefit league branch of St. Peter's Lutheran church is giving a big outing next Sunday at the grove of the Old Folk's farm, at Oakton and North Ridge avenues in Arlington Heights. Branch leagues from neighboring towns as well as Chicago have been invited, and it is estimated from experience with former outings held by the Concordia league here, that four or five thousand people will attend. Everyone, whether a member of the league or not, is welcome.

Church services for St. Peter's church and the whole assembly will be held in a large tent at the grove at 10 o'clock.

Coffee will be served free at noon, and luncheon and refreshments will be provided at reasonable cost; everything else is free, including parking space. Games and sports will start in the afternoon, in every variety to be found at a big picnic, including baseball for men, games and races for the children, cards and buncos for those who desire. A committee on arrangements, with W. F. Karstens as chairman, will look after every detail.

Buses will run between the railroad station and the grounds, meeting the trains from Chicago.

MORELAND WINS; MICHAELSON IS OUT IN RECOUNT

A net gain of 611 votes for J. C. Moreland, a congressman from this Seventh district, leaving him 555 votes ahead of Congressman M. A. Michaelson for the nomination for the November election, is the result of the recount practically completed last week under orders from Circuit Judge Friend.

And concerning which a report is to be made to the judge this week.

It is expected that the judge will then issue to Mr. Moreland a certificate of nomination.

The biggest gains for Mr. Moreland were made in precincts he picked out in advance, where in exactly the same kind of neighborhood two adjoining precincts would show astonishing differences in figures on the first count. There was fraud on the face of it, as explained then by Mr. Moreland to the Cook County Herald; and he determined on a recount, which has proved in those precincts that his surmise was correct. His gains were made in the first three days of the recount, those particular precincts being counted then.

The election board is said to be compiling for the use of the Circuit court, a list of the judges and clerks in those precincts where the evident frauds were committed. Some of the ballots left blank for congressmen were plainly counted for Mr. Michaelson.

In the entire canvass, Moreland gained 544 votes and lost 320, while Michaelson gained 336 and lost 773, showing not only fraud, but inaccuracy.

Mr. Moreland, now practically assured of the nomination, was regally respected as a man. Coming from a Kentucky log cabin to make his way in Chicago, he has become one of the leading home builders of the northwest side, and a leader in promoting its civic welfare and development.

Roof of Geo. Freund's Blacksmith Shop Burns Wednesday Afternoon

A spark from the chimney set fire to nearby old shingles on the roof of the two-story barn on the Vincent Sadecky property at Campbell and Vail streets, Wednesday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock, and the fire department was called out. As the fire was not large, it was extinguished by means of the chemical hose. The building is used by George Freund as a blacksmith shop.

Two Jockeys Laid out at Steeplechase Tuesday

Two horse jockeys, D. Hutt and Harry Hunt, were seriously injured Tuesday afternoon in the gentle art of steeplechasing for the amusement of the populace. Jockey Harry Hunt, riding a horse known as Flit, fell at the second jump, and as we go to press a day later, is still unconscious from severe concussion of the brain, according to Dr. E. K. Pfaff, surgeon at the race track. Jockey Hutt, has a broken collar bone, acquired at the eighth jump. Both men are in the St. Joseph hospital, in Elgin. There were six entries in the race.

Lions of Two Towns Picnic on Thursday

The Lions clubs of Arlington Heights and Barrington, their families and friends, are attending Thursday of this week, an outing at Lake Long Hotel, Delavan Lake, Wis. A golf tournament, bathing, boating, fishing, indoor baseball, tennis, horse shoes, bridge, "500," burlesco, dancing, and moving pictures are all on the bill, as well as basket lunches, and an evening dinner in the evening. This is Ladies' day, and a good time for the families.

Deep Well Water Supply Only Permanent Relief Say, Engineers

WATER FAMINE IS ACUTE IN ARLINGTON

News Scarsdale Well Is Expected to Give Temporary Relief

While the wells of Arlington Heights are being pumped at the supposed combined rate of about 86 gallons a day for every person, the 5,000 in Arlington Heights, while they use ordinarily probably not over 30 gallons a day apiece—the whole north side has been without water most of each day for about two weeks. Usually the pressure comes up at night so there is water in the bathrooms, then about nine o'clock in the morning, it is down so water can be got only in the cellars if at all, and no water for the rest of the day except occasionally in the evening. Where is the water going, or are the wells failing? There is a difference of opinion.

There are about 1,040 separate water accounts in Arlington Heights, with 5,000 people in town, or about five persons to a meter. A Herald reporter added up the total number of gallons on thirty staves to water bills on Water Collector Neuman's spindle, and it came to 10,871 gallons per user for the previous three months, or 121 gallons a day on the average, or 24 gallons per day per person, counting five persons to the meter.

Mr. George Klehm, village trustee, and on the water committee of the board, figures 50 gallons of water per day per person, or 250,000 gallons a day for the 5,000 persons.

As well as at the village hall is supposed to pump about 150 gallons of water per minute, the one near the Arlington Seating company, 125 gallons per minute, and the one by the water tower, 50 gallons per minute, Mr. Klehm states, totaling 325 gallons per minute. Three hundred gallons per minute, 24 hours a day is 432,000 gallons per day, which is vastly in excess of the apparent consumption of water.

It seems about half the water or at least 180,000 gallons a day, leaks out somewhere, Mr. Klehm believes, as indicated by the figures just given. He advocates a testing of the system by experts to detect the principal leaks. This is done by closing off sections of the water system, pumping in air, then noting whether or not the pressure goes down; if it does, there is a leak; at the same time, the sound of escaping water is amplified by an electrical device so that it can be heard and located.

It is not possible to avoid leaks altogether, Mr. Klehm states; the best systems will leak one-fifth of the water pumped into them, he says.

There have been rumors and reports of considerable sprinkling of lawns, especially at night to escape detection, but these reports have not been checked. In one or two instances the persons reported to have offended, are being supplied by private water works. The police are asked to report any persons found sprinkling.

One of the water mains was broken where the new sewer is being put through, but is supposed to have been repaired. The Hume Pipe factory has a three inch main, but has been short of water along with the rest; a two inch main is reported to go to the Spencer, White and Prentiss companies for the use of their excavating and other machinery. People let their faucets run more in warm weather, so as to get a cool drink, cool a watermelon, etc., as well as watering lawns; but except for lawn watering and the theory of leaking pipes, there is no account for the water famine, unless the present wells are now pumping less than they are supposed to. They are not metered.

New Scarsdale Well

Pumping in the new 135-foot well in Scarsdale, for the purpose of cleaning out the lower end of running sand, began about 4 o'clock Sunday and continued Monday. The flow of about 50 gallons per minute during cleaning, was from the bottom stratum; the twelve inch pipe extends temporarily from the top down to the 10-inch screen (14 feet, 8 inches long) at the bottom of the well, with the turbine pump down about 114 feet from the surface, operated by a shaft from the top. When the bottom is cleaned out, the temporary pump will be lifted out, and a cutter lowered, which will cut off the 12-inch pipe at about 51 feet below the surface; and a ring will be lowered to connect the 12 inch pipe below, with the 16-inch screen and pipe above. At the 50 foot level, there is a stratum of water-bearing sand that on a previous test, ran over 200 gallons per minute, and which is being shut off temporarily; but when the upper section of 12-inch pipe is cut off and pulled out, all the upper flow will be added to the flow from the lower part and pumped up together.

Mr. Klehm is confident that the total flow from this well will be somewhere over 200 gallons per minute.

W. H. Allen Presents Exhaustive Study of Water Situation; Ad- vocates New Style Well

The growth of not alone Arlington Heights, but the development of the entire Chicago suburban area is blamed for the diminishing supply of water in the shallow wells of Arlington Heights according to an exhaustive report that was presented Monday night to Mayor Mors and the village board. The report was prepared during the winter by the engineering force of Mr. Allen. It covers over fifty pages in addition to maps and profiles.

Mr. Allen's office stated that the compilation of the report was made during the winter months when there were practically no outside duties for the engineers and they had time to go into the matter very thoroughly.

While the village board and Mayor Mors have realized for some time that the situation is acute no direct orders had been given to the engineers until a week ago and the presentation of the report was most opportune, although it was a surprise. That report will save many months of waiting as it states in detail the present situation, the cause of the shortage, the certainty of continued shortage and suggests the remedy. The report might be compared in its thoroughness to the present big sewer plan. Its construction would settle the water problem for Arlington Heights, for many years. The alternative would be the use of lake water, an expensive experiment.

Des Plaines has spent many years and thousands of dollars in solving its problem. The experimental work and cost in that village will not be necessary in Arlington Heights.

Mayor Mors, who first saw the report Monday night, was unwilling to express his opinion of the plan until he had time to study it thoroughly, but he emphatically let it be known that in his opinion a deep well is the only proper solution. Many of the aldermen agree with him.

Among the interesting "exhibits" of the report is a graph showing the past growth and probable future growth of Arlington Heights. In 1880, Arlington Heights led all Northwest suburbs in population. The condition was little changed in 1890. In 1900 Des Plaines had forged ahead with Park Ridge a close second. The estimated population of Arlington in 1880 is 8,000 and 12,000 in 1950. The plan is to provide water supply for such growth.

The present water supply, says the engineer, comes entirely from the surface. Increasing sewer extensions and increasing consumption on the part of families makes such a supply inadequate. A temporary supply at a depth of about 1,000 feet, which is the depth of the race track well would furnish in the neighborhood of 400 to 500 gallons of water a minute which is needed here now. The engineer feels that provisions should be made for a thousand or more gallons which will mean a well sunk to Potsdam or 1800 feet.

The economical construction of such a well provides for the drilling of one well and laying large supply mains in units, which can be increased as the town grows, even to the extent of ultimately having two wells.

Mr. Allen further states that the present water pumping equipment and wells are probably only pumping about 46 per cent of their supposed capacity.

FORM WELFARE COMMITTEE IN ARLINGTON HTS.

A permanent Welfare committee to bring about closer cooperation between the community nursing service at the local health center in the Village Hall, connected with the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute, with the various civic organizations, churches and schools of Arlington Heights was organized at a meeting of 12 representatives of organizations at 3 o'clock, June 15 at the health center.

Invitations to the meeting were sent out by the C. T. I. and Hattie K. Palmer, R. N., supervisor of C. T. I. nurses, was temporary chairman. Mrs. John Allen, 635 N. Highland avenue, was made chairman of the committee, and she was asked to preside from then on. Other officers were elected, and a committee on by-laws, to report at the next meeting, Aug. 12; meetings will be the afternoon of the second Tuesday of each month at the health center.

This is to be an unofficial public health committee, to be made up of delegates from principal civic and church organizations, and the schools, public and parochial, to establish closer cooperation between them all and the nursing service which is personally conducted by Miss Martha Jackson, community nurse, so that the work can be extended and made more generally effective.

To assure a full representation at meetings, each delegate is asked to appoint not only a delegate, but provide an alternate who can attend in the absence of the delegate.

VILLAGE BOARD ACTS TO START NEW DEEP WELL

Engineer and Attorney Given Instructions to Make Plans

The Village board of Arlington Heights met Monday evening, July 21, this being the regular meeting night. All were present. Village Clerk Harold Herer read the minutes of a special meeting called the previous Monday for the purpose of considering the water situation. At this special meeting, Village Attorney Thal was instructed to draw up an ordinance calling for the construction of a deep well. The vote was five for and one against; Mr. George Klehm not being present to more wells, but from his experience as a nurseryman with an abundance of water, almost artesian, near the surface around Arlington Heights, he considered that a deep well is an unnecessary expense. The other members of the board held that the shallow wells are failing, and it will now be necessary to go deeper for a permanently abundant supply.

Complain of Poles

Residents of South State road having complained of the disfigurement of their neighborhood by the number of utility lines on poles going through, Mr. Larkin of the Public Service company was present to explain his company's side of the question, but there was no one present from the telephone company, and therefore the matter was held over.

The Street and Sidewalk committee reported that practically all needed repairs to streets and sidewalks have been made on the north side and that the repairs to asphalt streets on the Tuf Trend system are taken care of.

Water Commissioner asked that a sidewalk line be laid out for North Belmont avenue between Euclid and Hawthorne streets; and Engineer Allen was authorized to do this.

The street committee also reported the repair of the gravel roadways on Foundry road and West Campbell street, by use of the scarifier and scraper.

Ask Quick Action on Well

The Building and Grounds committee reported testing the new well at Scarsdale, there being much sand still coming up, but about 50 gallons per minute being pumped from the lowest strata, the middle water-bearing stratum being closed off during the test. On motion, Layne and Bowler were asked to attend a special meeting of the board Wednesday night of this week, in regard to the well and the water situation. It was voted that this company be notified of the present water famine in Arlington Heights, and that a demand be made that everything possible be done to expedite the completion of this well.

Residents Have Water Shut Off

Trustee Goetke reported on the James subdivision water being turned off; the residents there have no meter. Commissioner Hinz reported also that one resident has a meter, and a pipe shunted around the meter so he was getting water for nothing; his water was ordered shut off entirely. Another resident, using water without a meter and also sprinkling her lawn while others went without water to drink, cook or wash with, had her water ordered shut off; now she can pack water with the rest.

The finance committee reported favorably on bills and payroll. President Mors wrote to Fairbanks, Morse and company in regard to leveling the engine and pump at the Village hall, the foundation of which is sagged, causing excessive wear; but he had not received a reply.

He also wrote the Creamery Package company in regard to acid fumes, but he had received no reply from them.

On motion, the Village board took a recess, while a Board of Local Improvements meeting was held, after which the meeting was again called to order.

The Public Service company officers, having objected to the ordinance which had been passed repealing the 2 per cent tax on electricity consumed within the village, presented a proposal of a new franchise, in regard to a new franchise, was referred.

President Mors appointed Trustees Muller, Jasper and Byrd to draw up a resolution upon the passing of Charles Sigwalt, copies of which to be inserted in the minutes, and to be sent to the bereaved family; Mr. Sigwalt having been president of the board.

New, Valuable

Book on America
Given to Library

Our Country, Past and Present," a valuable book just off the press of the publishing house of Scott, Foresman and company, has recently been presented to Arlington Heights public library by Miss Lydia Thieme, a representative of the firm.

The gift was inspired by Mrs. Rudolph Williams, who is interested in every good work.

The fine maps and illustrations throughout the book show the changing development of our country through the years.

The object of the authors, Nida and Webb, is to correlate the studies of history and geography. This has been accomplished in a marked degree. The book will be most interesting to children of the elementary grades.

ARLINGTON BOOSTERS ON WINNING STREAK

The Arlington Boosters continued their winning streak at the expense of the Union Printers, winning by a score of 7 to 3.

On next Sunday the Boosters will meet Arlington's ancient rival, Palatine, at the local park. Palatine in winning over most of the teams of this community, has warranted a chance to meet the Boosters.

Jim Galdbeck and Sanborn will form the battery for Palatine while Diederich and Hochenauer will work for the locals.

Diederich since signing with the Boosters as relief pitcher, has pitched great ball each time he has been called on and with our regular hurler Finerman on his vacation, Bill will endeavor to boost the winning streak to five straight.

A change in admission is being made. Hereafter it will be, cents 50c, ladies 25c. Game called at 3:00 p. m.

VILLAGE BOARD ACTS TO START NEW, DEEP WELL

Regarding Special assessments 94 and 95, for water and sewer stubs on South Chestnut and other streets, it was voted that interest shall start from the date of confirmation instead of that of the first voucher.

Makes Report on Water
Engineer Allen submitted a preliminary report on the existing water supply and distribution system of Arlington Heights, together with certain recommendations for their improvement, as reported elsewhere in this paper.

That explained two possible plans of raising money for a deep well, to cost about $50,000: One was by a bond issue, confirmed by a referendum, and the other was a scheme of payment by raising the water rates.

Mr. Allen was formally appointed Engineer for the deep well project, and Mr. Thal attorney to handle the legal steps, which necessarily will take some weeks.

The Board then adjourned until Wednesday.

"Heart Day" Taggers
Get Prizes for Work

The "Heart Tag Day" receipts when checked up by Mrs. Marie E. Bolte, who took charge of the volunteers of America tag day held here on Saturday last, totaled the sum of $36.84.

The children worked faithfully from early in the morning until the close, and those interested in the affair are deeply grateful to all who in any way helped to make the undertaking a success.

At the close of the contest it was found that Lois Bolte was entitled to the first prize, having secured $9.10 for her tags. The second prize was won by Dorothy Tegmeier, who had $9.08. The third winner was Lillian Schoepke, who had $6.00. The fourth, fifth and sixth prizes were won by Marva Meyer, Elizabeth Hagen, Marjorie Bolte.

The other children were made happy with movie passes.

tion and friends.
There will be plenty of tables for luncheon groups, and coffee will be served free.

There will be games and events in the afternoon, with plenty of attractive prizes for the children. The outing is sponsored by the local branch of the Concordia league, and the proceeds are to go to the school. Invitations have been sent to the churches of the district, and if the weather is favorable, a very big attendance is expected.

A 28-inch casing runs down 31 feet to exclude surface water.

The matter of actual use of this new well is of pumping temporarily until the water comes out clear, then pulling off the temporary pump, cutting off the 12-inch pipe at the 50 foot level, installing the new pump with an electric motor, and making a pipe connection with the water main that runs about 15 feet east of the well. This ought not to take more than two weeks at the most; and Mr. Klehm believes will relieve the water shortage for the time being.

Sewer Drains Off Water
The water table of the middle stratum, has dropped from 6 to 19 feet with the putting through of the big sewer system, according to Mr. Klehm, and the workmen for Layne and Bowler at the well, and reducing by that much the available supply.

As to Fire Hazard
For use in case of fire, a reserve supply of water, at least 20,000 gallons, is kept in a 160,000-gallon tank below the floor in the Village Hall, and steam pressure is kept up constantly so that water can be forced into the north side or south side mains by means of steam pumps, according to Mr. Arthur Dieball, water works engineer.

These pumps will start immediately to force water into the mains, as soon as any fire alarm should be given.

Work on the Scarsdale well has been delayed by mechanical troubles, such as losing the massive drill in the bottom of the well, and taking about two weeks to get hold of it.

The Beattys to Go
For a Gala Jaunt

Old home scenes and friends are the lure that takes the Beatty's, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Beatty, with their son, J. Y., and family in his roomy car. They are planning to leave here the last of this week for Pipestone, Minnesota, the former home of Mrs. J. Y. Beatty, who will also visit the hospital where she took her training as a nurse.

Mrs. D. G. Beatty is looking forward to seeing old friends and neighbors, and the senior Beatty anticipates seeing his old Sunday school teacher en route, in Wisconsin, as they go. This teacher sends him frequent letters and as she is 94 years old he does not want to fail calling on her.

Mr. J. Y. Beatty is thus spending his vacation and is his personally conducted trip. We are sure he has some interesting object in view which we hope to hear about later.

Among other places of interest they will visit the Black Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Beatty will visit their Dakota farm, which they have not seen for ten years. May safety and a happy tour and time attend our cheerful friends, the Beattys.

Thistle Owners
Appear in Court
and Pay Fines

Canada thistle cases in Wheeling township were prosecuted Saturday afternoon at the Arlington Heights village hall, before Justice of the Peace Wm. E. Konplin, by Mr. Albert Kehe, thistle commissioner. Fines were assessed and promises secured of cleaning up the conditions. Some difficulty is being experienced in finding the names of the owners of many of the subdivision lots. The cases were prosecuted under the state law, although there is a village ordinance that could be utilized.

The yellow blossomed sow thistle will receive more attention in a few days, as it goes to seed later than the purple blossomed

Mt. Prospect A. C. Defeats Long Grove

The Mt. Prospect A. C. baseball team won their eighth game of the season last Sunday by defeating Long Grove 8-2. The boys have now won 8 games, and lost two. They have defeated Palatine 2 games, Wheeling 2 games, Long Grove 1 game and Roselle 1 game. They lost to Roselle 1 game and to Elgin 1 game.

Last Sunday's game was a good game to see. Wureffel, who had not pitched for a while, was back again in full strength. Although Long Grove collected 11 hits, Wureffel kept them scattered, for whenever he was in a hole he bore down and sent Long Grove batters to the bench in quick succession. Mt. Prospect collected 14 hits.

Ted Moehling, who took Ham Hasz's place at first, played wonderful ball. Roy Hasz also deserves a great deal of credit, for his very good fielding and heavy slugging. Only one error was made by Mt. Prospect during the game. The Mt. Prospect A. C. was never frightened of Long Grove. They took the lead at the beginning of the game, and not only held it, but also increased it.

The Sunday school attendance was somewhat diminished last Sunday due to so many being away for vacations. The Sunday school was remembered with birthday offerings from Helen Walsh, Billy Turner and Mrs. L. G. Johnson.

"WE" Join With

Firestone

To Bring You GREATER VALUES at LOWER PRICES

PRICES are low on many good tires, but there is only one "best". The Firestone Company, Firestone Dealers and Service Stores join in reducing distribution costs.

It was not enough for Firestone to originate and apply economies in tire building. Firestone now originates and further applies economies to distribution which reduce our cost and enable us to increase our volume at small profits... We invite you to come in and see the new Firestone Line at these low prices. We not only have tires in all popular sizes, but we have the cross sections so that you may examine the inside construction of the tire, and actually see the advantages of Firestone over other makes. You will be convinced that no such values have ever been offered you before.

—ran 71,351 miles on a Detroit taxicab, before the first tire was replaced.
—were on the G. M. C. truck carrying a two-ton load that hung up the Coast-to-Coast endurance record.
—for 10 years have been sold on a mileage cost basis to taxicab and bus lines in greater volume than any other tires, and now equip the world's largest taxicab fleet and the world's longest bus line.

Camp Life Is the Only Life Say Scouts From Camp Bryan

Twelve Palatine scouts returned to their homes Sunday after spending two weeks at Camp Bryan, near Wakelee, Mich. The same day twenty-two boys from Arlington Heights entered the camp for a like period. "It is a gay life," say the boys who have just returned. "Camp life in a scout camp is a whole lot different from camping with mother and dad," said another. Some of them found it a new experience to be strictly on their own, winning or losing with no favors coming their way. From reports first received at home from the camp, it took a few days for the boys to become acclimated to such a life, but having found themselves the rest of the camp period passed rapidly.

It is not every reader of this paper who is fortunate enough to have scouts in the family and those who are not too old to still get a kick out of boy life, will be interested in the account of the cross country race that was enjoyed the other Saturday afternoon. There are many grownups, even hardened hunters who could not stand this pace.

There were four teams, each with a representative stationed at the relay points. The start was made from Wakelee a town a mile distant from camp. The contestant was required to take the scout pace of 12 minutes for the mile. If he made it in ten minutes, there was a wait of two minutes and two additional minutes, as a penalty before his successor could take up the baton.

The first goal was the end of the lake followed by a quarter of a mile row on the lake. A swim across the water to the raft followed, where the life guard representative on each team was required to take the swimmer by means of the "tired swimmer carry" to the pier, where the method was changed to the fireman's hold. Reaching shore, a first aid bandage was applied to be O. K'd by the examining physician.

The proper erection of a pup tent was next, followed by its removal. A fire had to be built without paper, water boiled so hard that it over-flowed the can; the fire extinguished; message, unknown until that moment signalled to a distant receiver. The person receiving the message ran to the corral, saddled a horse, rode it to the flag staff, and dismounted. The race was then taken up by the nature study representative who had to go into the woods and return with five specimens of leaves, giving them their proper names. The race ended with a contestant finding his way through the forest by means of track markings that had previously been laid.

The story of that relay race gives an excellent idea of scoutcraft to the person unfamiliar with the scouts training.

"Bean Hunt"

The scouts received a great kick out of the "bean" hunt that the entire camp engaged in one evening. The food for the evening meal had previously been cached across the lake. The boys had to find their supper if they wanted to eat. The menu consisted of beans, sandwiches, watermelon and milk. The watermelons weighted down with sand bags, were found in the lake, as well as the cans of milk. The silverware was on a high bluff and the rest of the supper was finally located in out of way places.

The overnight hike to Finch lake was also especially enjoyed, the distance for the trip being about 16 miles. The boys each carried his own tent and cooked his own meals.

More than one mother has received a thrill over the stories told by her scout, especially the initiation of the eight week-ers. How is this for a college stunt? All the boys who are there for the entire eight weeks were suddenly awakened about midnight, their hair covered with molasses. Flour put down their throats, were stripped, bodies painted with charcoal, forced to crawl up the hill on their hands and knees, only to be finally taken and thrown into the "brink."

Whisperings of the intended initiation had spread through the camp; and many a cabin maintained guards and armed itself in the event that the attackers tried to take one of their number. Only the eight weekers, however had the "pleasure" of the experience. One of the pastimes enjoyed by Ernest Witte has purchased a 1930 Ford truck, trading off his old Diamond T in the deal.

Holy Communion in the German language will be celebrated at St. Matthews Lutheran Church Sunday, July 27, at the regular morning service. Announcement to be made Friday, July 25.

The three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Long died Friday July 18, following a severe attack of scarlet fever, swollen and infected glands. The funeral held Saturday was private. The community extends sympathy to the bereaved family over the untimely loss of their infant son.

Miss Elva Toepel underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Augustana hospital Saturday morning, July 19. It was very successful and latest reports say Elva is getting along very well.

Miss Clara Geweke and Mabel Seel motored to Paxton, Ill., to attend the funeral services for Miss Harriet Tibbey July 19, who passed away following a severe illness of about a month's duration. Miss Tibbey was one of the pals the girls had met on their tour of the east two years ago. They returned to East Maine on Sunday after visiting at the homes of Miss Love Alene Fasking and Mrs. Edna Simpson of Elliott and Saybrook. They enjoyed their trip very much except for the fact that it was on such a sad mission that they were called.

Joey Ahrens, accompanied by 2 of his baseball pals, Bill Sellke and Heinz Gardner motored to Mauston, Wis., Monday for a week's fishing trip. Don't worry, they'll be back for Sunday's game.

the boys was the turtle race. Each contestant had his own turtle which was required to travel in a straight path. The turtles obeyed their masters better than did the frogs in the succeeding race.

It was not all play and no work at Camp Bryan and the rigors of camp life had their place, each cabin doing its best to win coveted awards. The two cabins containing the boys from Palatine adjoining each other and one of these had the honor of winning cabin inspection three times, which entitled them to a trip back to civilization, the village of Marcelles, where there were ice cream fountains and everything.

East Maine Defeats Immanuels, 7 to 6

With a 6 to 3 score against them in home half of the eighth inning of Sunday's game with the DesPlaines Immanuels, the East Maine lads snapped into brilliant eighth and ninth inning rallies to more than make up those needed runs and to win the game in the ninth 7 to 6. Lemke, hurler for the Immanuels, virtually lost his own game when with bases loaded in the ninth he walked Heinz Gardner to force in the winning run.

The battle was closely contested throughout, the score tied twice and the lead see-sawing back and forth for the first few frames. Lemke gave two singles, a double and a pass in the first inning off which the local lads scored two runs, Jonas and Pridaux crossing the plate while Ahrens and Gardner died on bases. Immanuels tied that score in the third after Bill Sellke had successfully pulled himself out of a tight place in the second by fanning three men in succession with bags loaded. E. Landendorf and G. Boeckenhauer brought in the two unearned runs in the third to knot the score.

Meinshausen doubled and scored in the fourth to make it 3-2 but in the home half Gardner singled, stole second and third and was sacrificed home by Lueh to again tie up the game. From then on DesPlaines got the lead and kept it until the last of the ninth, scoring 1 in the fifth, 1 in the seventh and 1 in the eighth. Olsen grounded out to second to open the last of the eighth, Bill Sellke doubled, Ahrens walked out to short and Gardner walked. Bill and Heinz worked a beautiful double steal and scored on Lueh's hard hit single. Vonbergen fanned.

Then came the thrilling climax. Sell, batting for Goettsche struck out, Jonas doubled, Pridaux, Olsen and Sellke hit safely with Dony scoring the tying run. Joey fanned for the second out and Gardner came up with bases loaded and watched Lemke's peg go wide at the plate for the count of "ball 4, take your base" and Pridaux walked in with the winning run.

There were some weak spots and loose moments in the home defense with several unearned runs for their opponents but the boys buckled down in the final stages of the game and hit everything handed them. It was a great game and now gives one victory apiece to each the DesPlaines and East Maine boys. The third game of this series will be played sometime in September and is awaited with keen interest.

Next Sunday East Maine will play Fairview on the Fairview diamond.

"WE" Join With

Firestone

To Bring You GREATER VALUES at LOWER PRICES

PRICES are low on many good tires, but there is only one "best". The Firestone Company, Firestone Dealers and Service Stores join in reducing distribution costs.

It was not enough for Firestone to originate and apply economies in tire building. Firestone now originates and further applies economies to distribution which reduce our cost and enable us to increase our volume at small profits. . . . We invite you to come in and see the new Firestone Line at these low prices. We not only have tires in all popular sizes, but we have the cross sections so that you may examine the inside construction of the tire, and actually see the advantages of Firestone over other makes.

You will be convinced that no such values have ever been offered you before.

LEADERSHIP

Firestone brought out for automobile use:
—The first straight-side tire.
—The first rubber non-skid tread.

—The first commercial demountable rim.
—The first patented Gum-Dipping process.
—The first balloon tire.

PERFORMANCE

Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires:
—hold all world's records on road and track for safety, mileage, speed and endurance.
—for eleven consecutive years have won the 500 mile Indianapolis Endurance Race.
—were on winning cars in Pike's Peak Race—where a slip meant death.
—were on the Studebaker car which on a board track at 4-lane City in 1928 went 30,000 miles in 26,326 minutes.

—ran 71,351 miles on a Detroit taxicab, before the first tire was replaced.
—were on the G. M. C. truck carrying a two-ton load that hung up the Coast-to-Coast endurance record.
—for 10 years have been sold on a mileage cost basis to taxicab and bus lines in greater volume than any other tires, and now equip the world's largest taxicab fleet and the world's longest bus line.

FARMOLOGY

EDITED BY O. G. BARRETT—COOK CO. FARM ADVISER
R. A. Niefeldt, Pres. Alfred Busse, Secy-Treas.
Truck Gardening—Henry Homeier, August Deeka
Gen. Farming—Julius F. Precht, Tom Welter, Jr.
Dairying—Fred W. Pfingsten, Henry Henke

The main difference between outlaws and inlaws is that the outlaws frisk you and quit.

Did you ever stop to think how much a flapper is like an automobile? The louder the paint the more you turn and look. The faster they go the more there are trying to catch up with them; and the faster they go the sooner they will come to some bad end. And when they are a wreck the worse the wreck the more you stop and look them over.

Speaking about looking them over though. We like to look them over ourselves. In fact we hope we never will get so old that we won't enjoy looking them over; and we mean both of them.

We heard a couple talking on the street corner the other day. They were talking about birth control and we thought they said girly control; and we were interested because the opposite of girly control means farm relief. Why, do you know the farmer ought to call a boycott on the doctors. They ought to die first before they use them unless they stop advising folks that they are eating too much.

Who ever heard tell in the "good old days" of a tomato and lettuce sandwich? Or of anyone trying to make a meal of a lot of garden scraps and some salve being made into a combination salad and a cup of coffee?

The time was that we ate boiled potatoes and Johnny Cake and milk gravy for breakfast. Beef baked beans and whole wheat bread for dinner — and dinner was at noon too — and then the rest of the pan of beans that you didn't eat for dinner you had for supper — but we don't need to mention any more because those were the "good old days." And in those days when men ate like men and women ate between meals there wasn't any mention of farm relief.

When we talk about flappers of today and "good old days" and such things and this being July it reminds us that one line of flappers at least ought to be eliminated. Take for instance right in your own class. Look at the women. You can tell quick enough by the looks of one whether she works much or not or whether she is much of any good. The ones that really work have the least color on their lips and the lowest heels on their shoes. The ones that do the least have the most color, and most polish but the least shine, their coat is nice and slick and just the right length.

This is July, just the right time to cull hens. The no good one around the barn yard is the one that's all dressed up, lots of yellow in the legs, in the comb and in the beak and the feathers look well cared for; the old lady that has been laying eggs for the last four or five months, delivering a good deal more food in proportion to her body weight than a good dairy cow has taken that yellow out of the legs and beak and put it into the egg yolk. The nourishment that might have gone to the feathers and made them look bright and fine has gone into the egg. Now if you are keeping them to look at, we don't blame you for wanting the nice flapper type; but if you are keeping them to work like most of us do our women then the faded out kind is the kind we will keep and send the other ones to the city.

Trying to do business without rendering conscientious service is like winking at a girl in the dark — you know what you are doing but nobody else does.

If you were running a store, a business or had to do with the operation of a church, a school or an organization we would welcome any good, friendly, instructive criticism. And since we are connected with an organization we do. If the work of the organization could be improved by our cutting our whiskers a little longer or a little shorter we would be very glad to do that; and we would welcome your advice and your suggestions but if your suggestions are regarding the amount of hair on our head, the number of plants per square inch or the color of those plants, a thing of which we have no control over, we wish that you would not say anything about it in the way of criticism. Any fair criticism should be a stimulus to act and not to an unfavorable reaction. Every friendly objection or productive criticism that is directed to our program we will promise that they will not provoke antagonism but instead we will study diligently the validity of the criticism and the causes and we hope that they will lead to sound evidence disproving the critics statement or to a correction of the condition which leads to it.

This will give the boys an idea how to fit their calf for the Club Show, September 13th. The boys will also visit the swine herds of Mr. Ezra McClaudy and Henry Henke and the projects of Henry Henke, Jr., Frederick Henke, Herbert Keuch, Carl A. Bormet and Emil Bormet.

A similar Livestock Day is being planned for the boys in the north end of the county July 30th. WHEELING DEPARTMENT

Third annual Wheeling Day Saturday, Aug. 9. Plans are rapidly nearing completion to make Wheeling Day, 1930, the biggest and best ever. Races, baseball, dancing and other forms of entertainment will fill the program of the day with merry-making. Pass the word around among your out-of-town friends and relatives. Be ready to lend a hand and help make this a day of success. Remember this is your day. Be a booster for Wheeling.

Although Milwaukee road north of Dundee road is open to thru traffic on Sundays and evenings the barricade has been tightened during the working hours, due especially to an accident which occurred last Friday morning. Work is still going on as the shoulders are being completed and the bridge over Buffalo Creek being widened. As one of the workmen endeavored to flag an approaching motorist to protect his working fellows, he was struck by the car and suffered a broken leg and other injuries. He was rushed to a hospital and the offender taken into custody. As a result, the officials ordered the barricade replaced to avoid a recurrence of the accident.

Last Wednesday was Wheeling day at Gage's Lake. Mr. and Mrs. R. Taylor and daughter, Betty, Mrs. C. Balling, Miss Dorothy Balling and Miss Edna Hoffmann, the Henry Mohr family and some of their out of town relatives all chose Wednesday for an outing at Gage's lake. The weather was ideal for picnicking and with a good bathing beach, playground equipment all close at hand, they all reported a very pleasant day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kruse were hosts to over fifty people on Sunday, friends from Glen Ellyn, Oak Park and Chicago. Although the heat was intense, the old chestnuts gave of their kindly shade and made the spacious lawn one of the most comfortable spots in town. Meals were served on tables under the trees and with numerous trips to the nursery and plenty of games, the day proved a most enjoyable one.

This to be a joint picnic of Northbrook and Wheeling congregations, and will be held in the Forest Preserve east of Des Plaines river and north of Dundee road. The committees of the two churches have been working together and plans have been made which will provide a good time for all. Detailed announcements will be mailed to all families of our congregation the week before. Keep the date open.

EMMERSON CUTS CAMP MEETING FOR THE RACES

teach the simple gospel. But are the ideals of the press so upright as to give the last word in civic morality?

Bishop Lester Smith of Chattanooga was the speaker at the morning and afternoon services Sunday, the final day. Bishop Titus Lowe of the Portland, Ore., area, spoke Thursday and Friday.

The "men, munitions, money" attitude in trying to save mankind in the mass by the church with a "social gospel" was severely criticized by Bishop Lowe. Wrong in principle, it results in failings off of church and Sunday school attendance, he said, citing examples.

"Men, munitions, money" were the things that counted in the war. The individual did not count for anything. We spent money like drunken sailors. Human beings were dashed into smithereens. We forgot that we were Christians; we forgot the individuals for whom Christ died. I was at the front for 11 months. I gathered up bits of flesh that a few minutes before were American soldiers. We picked up heads and bodies, not knowing which head went with each torso.

"After the war, we began on a new tack; it is what we call 'Christian Education.' Christian education was not begun ten years ago; we will be doing more of it ten years from now. Christian education that does not lead to the feet of the Crucified is not education."

The complaint of many of the elders of today that the younger generation is especially wild, is "all buncome," the Bishop declared; he cited "Seeing Nellie Home," and "Polly-Wolly Doodle," and "Ta-Ra-Ra-Boom-de-ay," as examples of what they used to sing when he was young, and matched them up with modern jazz. The young generation has more liberty and more frankness, but the elders have nothing to brag about over the young folks now, he declared.

"We must talk to the young people in the language of their day; we have been talking to them in the language of our day."

"The thing of most value in the community is this upcoming generation." Shifting the burden on the preachers does not work, the Bishop argued. He told how hard it is to get the influential laymen, such as physicians, lawyers and prominent business men of the churches to

KONJOLA VERY MEDICINE THIS WOMAN NEEDED

Former Sufferer Tells How Modern Compound of 32 Ingredients Ended Six Years of Illness.

MRS. WILLIAM EMPEY

Strange, but true, Konjola, the new and different medicine, seems at the very peak of its powers when pitted against the stubborn ills that have held on for years. Consider the case of Mrs. William Empey, 1801 North Adams street, Peoria, who declares:

"I had a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for six years, and constipation added to my misery. I had to get up often at night, and I became very nervous. I was tired and worn out all the time. I spent much money seeking relief, but found none. I read about Konjola and decided to try it. As a result I feel better than for a long time. I sleep better and am not nearly so nervous. I am thankful for what Konjola did for me, and I recommend it to one and all who suffer as I did."

Konjola is a medicine for young and old; for all the family. That is why Konjola is a household word wherever this amazing medicine is known.

Konjola is sold in Arlington Heights at Sieburg's Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

throw 100 per cent of their influence with the young people toward the church and Christianity; there lies the chief reason why the church is not conserving its own people and saving those who have wandered far from the influences of Christianity, be believes.

It is unjust to blame the young people for going astray when the elders fail to set them the right example, the Bishop declared.

Unfortunate Children

In a survey of state prisons in Kentucky, it was found that almost one-third of the male prisoners had dependent children under sixteen years old at the time they were sentenced.
